

WOMAN GETS NOMINATION OVER GILLEN

"WET" CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS DEFEATS LOCAL MAN IN SIXTH DISTRICT

IS TERRE HAUTE RESIDENT

Mrs. Virginia Jenckes Only Woman Ever to be Nominated for Congress in Indiana

Mrs. Virginia E. Jenckes, of Terre Haute, was nominated for congress from the Sixth district in Tuesday's primary election, final returns tabulated Wednesday and Thursday morning disclosed. She defeated Courtland C. Gillen of Greencastle in one of the surprise up-sets in the Indiana primary. Mrs. Jenckes also carried the distinction of being the first woman to be nominated for congress from Indiana. She will oppose Fred Purnell of Attica in the November election.

The Democratic organization of Vigo county was responsible for the defeat of Mr. Gillen, as they lined up behind Mrs. Jenckes and she got practically all the vote in Vigo county as well as in Vermillion county. She was running on a wet platform, and this brought additional support from the west side of the district, as well as scattered returns from over the entire district. Her vote of nearly 700 in Putnam county was unexpected, although party stalwarts spent much time here in her behalf.

The big scrap between Mr. Gillen who was elected two years ago, and Mrs. Jenckes, came when Rep. Gillen voted against the Beck-Linthicum resolution. Immediately the wet element in Vigo county brought Mrs. Jenckes forward as a candidate and she gained strength as the primary neared. Before primary day, Gillen was endorsed by the Indiana Anti-Saloon League, and this only added fuel to the flames that had been started early in the primary campaign.

Some idea of how the vote went against Gillen in Vigo county can be had from these brief reports which came in from time to time.

Gillen went into Vigo county with a majority of more than 4,000 votes. This was soon cut down to about 1,200 as more Vigo precincts reported. With 29 precincts in Vigo missing, Gillen's lead melted to 31 votes and the next tabulation with 21 precincts still out, Mrs. Jenckes took the lead with about 1,200 majority.

The total vote from 71 out of 86 precincts in Vigo county showed:
Gillen—2,005.
Jenckes—11,989.
Grieve—666.

The Republican vote in 298 precincts out of 334 was:
Fred S. Purnell—20,783.
Noble J. Johnson—11,554.
Mrs. Walter Denehie—2,108.

The total Gillen-Jenckes vote was:
Virginia E. Jenckes—19,672.
Robert Grieve—2,767.
Courtland C. Gillen—15,864.

NEGOTIATORS IN KIDNAPING EXPECT TO START SIXTH CRUISE DURING DAY

NORFOLK, Va., May 5, (UP)—Unsuccessful in their fifth cruise to sea in search of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., John Hughes Curtis and his associates expected to start another today.

They hope that, weather permitting, a group of men who say they have the Lindbergh baby will meet them off the coast and deliver the baby to them.

There seems little doubt now that Charles A. Lindbergh, Sr., has been aboard the Marcon, Diesel-motored yacht in which the Curtis cruises are made, for at least one trip and perhaps more. His presence would be a guarantee of his faith in the authenticity of the group with which Curtis is dealing.

Those associated with Curtis, including some of those who have been most optimistic, seemed dispirited. But though they admitted that they were disappointed at the repeated failure to obtain the baby, they said they were still hopeful.

EMERGENCY FUND IS STARTED

Last week two women's clubs noted for prompt action, started the emergency fund needed for our County nurse. These few dollars will be spent on children whose teeth are causing the most pain; probably for an X-ray for the young mother laid low by an undiagnosed disease; perhaps on the worst tonsil case in the family where the father has no work and all the children have swollen, diseased tonsils. It can not be stretched to help a fourteen-year-old girl. We will call her Martha Jane. Her mother is dead. Her father is out of a job. Her aunt is losing her level best but Martha Jane is going to lose her hearing and also have dim eyesight all her life for lack of the preventive work science now provides. There are hundreds of emergency cases like Martha Jane's. Money will be spent for relief all over the county as fast as possible unless donors give for some particular case. Does any Club or person want to take care of Martha Jane?

Signed—The Nursing Committee of the Putnam County Health Unit and The Greencastle Council of Clubs.

ALLEGED FOWL THIEF SECURES RELEASE HERE

CLARENCE HAYNES IS NOT IDENTIFIED AND HAS AN ALIBI

AGREES TO LEAVE COUNTY

Artie Buntin, Alleged Accomplice, States That Companion In Thefts Was Not Man Held

Clarence Haynes, age about 28 years, of Fillmore, held in the county jail since his arrest a week ago on a charge of petit larceny in connection with the theft of chickens in this county, was released Wednesday by Sheriff Alva Bryan upon orders from Prosecutor Marshall D. Abrams.

Haynes convinced authorities that he was at home last Monday night caring for his sick wife when the alleged theft of chickens from the farms of Gilbert Ruark and Tom Talbott took place. Artie Buntin, 43 years old, of Marion township, who pleaded guilty to the poultry thefts, also stated emphatically that Haynes was not his companion in the crime.

According to Buntin a transient named Whitmoss was his accomplice in the chicken thefts. He stated he did not know where Whitmoss went after they had sold the stolen fowls at the Havens Bros. poultry house in this city and cashed the check at the Oakley store on east Washington street.

Employees of both the poultry house and the Oakley store also were not positive in their identification of Haynes as Buntin's companion.

Buntin repeated his assertions that Haynes was innocent before a delegation of farmers from Marion township Wednesday. This delegation, consisting of Eldridge Buis, Verl Buis, Lawrence McGinnis, Lloyd McGinnis and Clyde Ruark, agreed with authorities that Haynes evidently had no connection with the poultry thefts.

Buntin and another man sold 12 chickens stolen from the Ruark and Talbott farms at the local poultry house, Buntin giving his name as Frank Jones and receiving a check made out in this name.

Buntin and Haynes were taken into custody last weekend by Sheriff Bryan. Arraigned in circuit court Monday morning Buntin pleaded guilty and received a one to five year prison term. Haynes denied his guilt and asked for a jury trial.

Haynes is a victim of epilepsy and suffered several of these attacks while held in the county jail. Upon being released he and his wife agreed to return to their former home in Somerset, Ky. They had been living here about five months, it was said.

SHOWS COIN COLLECTION

Although he believed he was taking a big risk, Capt. B. B. McMahon of the Rotary Club and the DePauw R. O. T. C. unit, displayed his coin and bill collection at the regular weekly luncheon of the Greencastle Kiwanis Thursday noon. Capt. McMahon's comments on the origin and history of many of the coins was most interesting. He has spent years and incidentally some good American money in building up his collection which includes both metal and paper money of many foreign countries. The members of the Kiwanis club were especially interested in Greek and Roman coins which were hundreds of years old.

NEWSPAPERS TO PAY

WASHINGTON, May 5, (UP)—The senate finance committee by action taken late yesterday made a permanent part of the national tax plan taxes which will cost the newspapers of the country, according to estimates by government experts, a million dollars a year.

These taxes are levied on telephone and telegraph messages, cablegrams, and radiograms and on wires used in the transmission of news. The taxes on telephone messages range from 10 to 20 cents per message, according to the amount of the toll. On telegrams the tax will be five per cent of the tolls. The tax on radiograms and cablegrams is 10 cents for each message. On wires used for news transmission, the tax will be five per cent of the charges paid.

News gathering facilities had been exempted from taxation in the revenue bill as passed by the house. The senate finance committee removed this exemption but first specified that the taxes would cease July 1, 1934.

TREATY ENDS HOSTILITIES AT SHANGHAI

AGREEMENT SIGNED IN HOSPITAL WHERE JAPANESE OFFICIALS ARE PATIENTS

SHANGHAI, May 5, (UP)—Representatives of the Japanese and Chinese governments were propped up in their hospital beds today to sign an agreement which ended hostilities in the Shanghai area.

A Japanese surgeon amputated the right leg of Minister Namuro Shigemitsu soon after he signed the agreement. The amputation was successful and the minister was reported in good condition. He was the most seriously hurt of the five highest Japanese officials here wounded in a recent bombing.

Before he was given an anesthetic, Shigemitsu shook hands with Samuel Chang, director of intelligence at the Chinese foreign office, and said: "Tell your people we must be friends."

The Japanese volunteered to start withdrawal of their troops tomorrow "as the first step in the faithful execution of the agreement." Withdrawal is to be completed in four weeks.

After Shigemitsu signed, the agreement was taken to the Japanese military hospital for signature by Gen. Ken-ichi Ueyeda, also injured in the bombing.

ENGLAND TO PROPOSE WAR DEBT SLASH

GREAT BRITAIN FAVORS BIG REDUCTION ON ALL REPARATIONS

CONFERENCE TO BE IN JUNE

British Government Believes That Germany is on Brink of Defaulting War Payments

LONDON, May 5, (UP)—The British government was credited in well informed circles today with the intention to propose at least a 25 per cent all round reduction of war debts and reparations at the Lausanne conference meeting in June.

Several unimpeachable sources revealed to the United Press that recent developments in the world economic situation, particularly the increasing gravity of Germany's predicament, brought a radical about-face in Britain's attitude.

Financial circles and some politicians were understood to fear Germany not only was on the verge of defaulting on reparations payments, but also on commercial debts. It was believed that Britain's new attitude was due primarily to the fear that such German default inevitably would precipitate the already precarious positions of international banking firms centuries old and well known throughout the world.

WAR DEPARTMENT

MEASURE IS SLASHED

WASHINGTON, May 5, (UP)—The house appropriations committee today concluded its share of the campaign for economy in the government by reporting a war department supply bill cut more than $58,000,000 below current appropriations.

Retirement of 2,000 regular army officers was provided, the committee holding the officer personnel was larger than needed.

The measure, last of the great annual appropriation bills, carries $386,383,452 for military and nonmilitary activities of the department. This is a reduction of $24,380,310 below President Hoover's budget recommendations.

The committee stated that in recommending economies it had avoided crippling the regular military activities of the army. Appropriations for rivers and harbors work also were kept at last year's figure $60,000,000.

'AL' JUST A NUMBER NOW

CHICAGO GANG LEADER SERVING TIME IN FEDERAL PRISON AT ATLANTA

ATLANTA, Ga., May 5, (UP)—Al Capone, whose name has flashed throughout the world as head of Chicago's unmerciful criminal syndicate, today was just another number behind the stone walls of Atlanta federal penitentiary.

The fat, bragging gangster was received at the prison last night—amid a very weak racket from a few prisoners—and became No. 40,886 for as long as he serves on his 11-year term, pressed upon him through conviction on a charge of violating income tax laws.

"Scarface Al," whose word had become law in the underworld he built up in Chicago, found himself completely ignored when he arrived at the federal penitentiary. He seemed unable to understand and fidgeted as he held his coat, his little black traveling bag and his gray fedora.

He had been accustomed to the limelight and even shortly prior to his reception at the penitentiary had given an interview.

"Al," he was asked in that last interview, "what kind of work do you want to do at the pen?"

"Well, I'm too heavy for light work and too light for heavy work," he winked broadly to bring the laughs.

He continued: "I'm interested in all all kinds of sports, mostly baseball. I'm a pretty fair pitcher and first baseman. I don't like professional football."

"If I can get into the sports end of this thing I'll have Mickey Walker down here in 30 days and I'll get Jack Johnson, too."

That apparently was the last boast of the man who only yesterday—as he was enroute to the prison—sneered and jeered in commenting on how Chicago would miss him and his "fixing" and "protection" powers.

PARTY LINES DISAPPEARING SAYS DURHAM

FORMER GREENCASTLE STATE SENATOR ADDRESSES INDIANA ALUMNI

Party lines and party platforms have lost their place in modern day politics, Andrew Durham of Greencastle, former state senator, declared last night in an address at the annual Foundation day banquet of Indiana university in the Columbia Club at Indianapolis.

More than one hundred alumni, former students and friends of the university attended the dinner.

"Party lines are disappearing, particularly in our state legislature," Mr. Durham said. "They are passing largely because people today are better informed and better educated than they formerly were. There was a time when a Democrat wouldn't vote for a bill introduced by a Republican except in rare instances, and a Republican wouldn't vote for a bill introduced by a Democrat."

The party platform is becoming increasingly "something to get in on and not stand on," the speaker asserted.

"Did you ever read a party platform that didn't pledge unqualifiedly to strict economy? But neither party pays any attention to it when injected into office."

The disintegration of parties and platforms has come about through various movements and conditions, Mr. Durham pointed out. He cited the fate of a bill to repeal the primary law in the Indiana legislature several years ago. The bill failed to get out of the committee although the platform distinctly promised repeal of the law. The platform, however, had been drafted by only six men in the convention, he related.

James W. Ingles, president of the Indiana University Club, presided at the dinner and read a message from Dr. William Lowe Bryan, president of Indiana university, who was unable to attend the dinner.

SITUATION IS AGAIN TENSE AT HONOLULU

GOVERNOR JUDD GUARDED AFTER FREING AMERICAN "HONOR SLAYERS"

MILITARY POLICE ON DUTY

Widespread Dissatisfaction Prevails Among Whites and Natives After Sentences are Commuted

HONOLULU, May 5, (UP)—Military police guarded Governor Lawrence M. Judd today in Iolani palace, ancient home of Hawaiian monarchs, where threatening messages were received after he freed the four American honor slayers by commuting their 10-year prison sentences to one year.

Widespread dissatisfaction among both natives and whites over Judd's sudden action again menaced the peace he had sought to restore in Honolulu.

Native elements, led by Princess Abigail Kawananakoa, denounced the commutations as a "farce," while racial circles and other white residents were openly bitter because the governor did not accede to popular demand for a full pardon.

The commutation was as unexpected as the verdict of a mixed jury last Friday night which convicted Mrs. Granville Fortescue, her son-in-law, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie and two navy enlisted men, A. O. Jones and E. J. Lord, on manslaughter charges in the slaying of Joe Kahanawai, half-caste street car conductor.

Gray-haired, shrewd Clarence Darrow, chief defense counsel, revealed himself as a moving spirit in the decision which brought to a sudden close the most famous murder trial in south sea history. It was learned Darrow and associate counsel called on Judd Wednesday and applied for the commutation.

Significantly, the 75-year-old barrister was almost alone among commentators to approve the action, although he indicated a fight will be pressed to secure full pardons in the interests of the defendant's civil rights.

Darrow said: "We are pleased with what has been done so far. But we are not satisfied with this commutation. My clients automatically lost their citizenship when they were convicted but an unconditional pardon will fix that point. I believe congress will act to restore Lieut. Massie's position in the navy, providing the conviction made any changes in his status. A jury of a hundred million people rendered its verdict in the Kahanawai case, unhampered by 'loish and absurd rules of law.'"

Other groups in the islands and in the United States also moved for a pardon for the four, particularly for the three members of the navy whose positions may be endangered by the fact that the one hour's sentences make them guilty of a felony.

Princess Kahanakoa, Republican national committeewoman from Hawaii and former member of the Hawaiian royal dynasty, told the United Press: "Governor Judd's commutation... was a travesty and farce... are we to infer from the governor's act that there are two sets of laws in Hawaii—one for the favored few and the other for the people in general?"

The Honolulu Advertiser, one of the leading newspapers of the island, editorially today said: "Governor Judd has evaded the issue and again put Hawaii in an unenviable light before the nation. The governor's action has the effect of grudging acquiescence to a forceful public sentiment, whereas by granting a full pardon he would have gracefully complied with that sentiment... if it was his idea to extend clemency, he violated the spirit of clemency by inflicting on the defendants the stigma of existing upon even one hour of technical imprisonment in custody of the high sheriff."

Didn't we make a fool of him? He is only a poor unsophisticated school man. Anyway, let him attend to his books and classes. If boys who have no more brains than to do so, want to visit the bootlegger and drink booze, let them do it. "We want our liberty." We are the almighty and are going to have it. Who, anyway, will dare stand against the triumvirate built into such perfect strength that we can defy the United States government and laugh at all who dare throw their trembling strength against us. I am a bootlegger, high and mighty, the first member of this omnipotent trio; my partner here, he is my customer who goes on my bond; and the third member of the complete triangle is the weak-kneed officer of the law. Stand back, United States of America; hold your peace, churches, schools, and law-abiding cranks, while we march through your sacred places with the banner of rebellion and depravity. During the year the semi-monthly meetings of the organization have been devoted to the study and illustration of the rise and development of vocal and instrumental music in Italy, Germany, France, and Russia, from the folk song through the early religious music to the complicated opera and symphony of more recent years.

The string ensemble, accompanied by Mrs. L. C. Conrad, began the afternoon with the Andante, Adagio, and Allegro of Corelli's "Sonata." Scarlatti, early Italian composer of piano music, was represented by the vagaries of his "Pastorale" and the whimsy of his "Cat's Fugue," both played by Miss Marjorie Lower. Mrs. Gerard Baerg, in the Andante movement of Mozart's "Sonata in A Major" and the "Intermezzo," by Brahms, drew an interesting contrast between the brilliance and clarity of the earlier German composer and the deeper and more complex harmonies of the latter. The German "Lied" was represented, perhaps in its highest form, by Miss Edna Bowles, who, accompanied by Mr. Kolling, sang Schubert's "Du bist die Ruh" and Brahms' "Meine Liebe ist gruen."

Those chosen from the later nineteenth century French composers were Massenet and Franck. In the two quieter movements of Massenet's "Alsatian Sketches" "Sunday Morning" and "Under the Lindens," the string ensemble, consisting of Miss Louise Palmer Walker, Mrs. John Egan, Miss Garnet Sackett, Mrs. J. M. Fulmer, Miss Virginia Harlow, Miss Edna Bowles, and Mrs. L. C. Conrad, recreated the mingled religious solemnity and quiet dignity of an Alsatian Sunday. Mrs. Rowland Leach, accompanied by Mrs. Cordelia Burton, sang "Il est doux, il est bon," from Massenet's "Herodiade," bringing to the audience the more dramatic aspects of this composer's work. The music was brought to a close by the Andante Moderato, Allegro, and Lento Maestoso Vivace of Dvorak's "Dumka Trio," played by Miss Walker, Miss Bowles, and Mr. Kolling, in which the composer uses many of the folk themes of Little Russia.
The refreshments served after the program carried out the color scheme of cream and lavender set by the programs and the decorations, which consisted of sprays of dogwood, lilacs, and red buds.

The Guest day of the Morning Musicals, instituted several years ago, has now become a tradition in Greencastle and has helped to establish the organization in the social and musical circles of the community.

TIGERS DEFEAT WABASH

In a ragged baseball game, DePauw defeated Wabash at Crawfordsville Wednesday, 10 to 5. The largest crowd of the season saw the two teams in action.

Errors partly were responsible for the poor showing of the Little Giants as they presented the visitors with four runs in the third inning. Wildman, DePauw hurler, was effective in all innings except the seventh.

A home run by Gehle, Wabash catcher, featured. Score:
Wabash .0 1 0 0 0 0 4 0 0—5 9 3
DePauw .1 0 4 2 0 2 0 1 0—10 9 2

DePauw defeated the Wabash golf team, 15½ to 2½, in an 18-hole match here Wednesday afternoon. Green, with a 71, was low man for the Tigers. Rhodehamer, with a card of 76, turned in the best score made by the Scarlet club wielders.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.
For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a more movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.
If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.
It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.
But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

nal, describes plans for gearing car production to demand, improving financial and sales policies of dealers and giving purchasers greater values. He also states that one in ten of employed persons is dependent on the automobile industry for a livelihood.

A better basis of competition, he says, will be the result of fewer and better dealers, as a large number of poorly financed, or managed dealerships are being eliminated, in 1932. Other factors that tend to aid dealers are more lenient methods of developing quotas, rearrangements of territories and contracts to strengthen the position of retailers and make for more efficient selling methods, better accounting systems, merchandising helps through factory representatives, and installation of better records that improve the credit status of dealers in relation with bankers.

Mr. Reeves believes that general business recovery depends in a large measure upon the automobile industry and also, that the peculiar conditions of the year emphasize the importance of local dealer organizations in 1932 and of local banking and financial help for these dealers.

Alice in New Wonderland At Eighty

Inspiration of Lewis Carroll's Fantasy Comes to Honor Memory of Childhood Friend Who Wrote Immortal Classic.

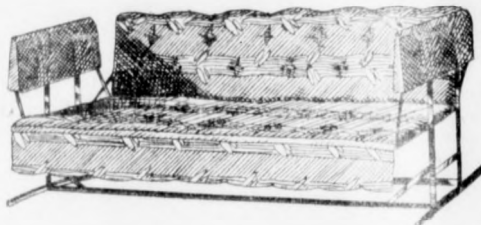

The original Alice of Lewis Carroll's immortal fantasy entered a new Wonderland when the first Scania docked at New York on her last trip from England. But this time there was no White Rabbit, Hatter or March Hare. Instead, Alice, who is Mrs. Alice Hargreaves, looked upon a Wonderland of towering skyscrapers and slender spires that seem to point to still another land that lies above the clouds. Hargreaves, now 80 years old, was the little girl for whom Lewis Carroll created the land of wonder some seventy years ago. Carroll told the story of Wonderland to Alice and her two sisters. But the sisters were content to hear the story from the lips of its creator, little Alice Hargreaves. Carroll did not forget a detail, insisted upon the dreamy professor of mathematics writing the story in a book for her. Carroll did not forget a detail, insisted upon the dreamy professor of mathematics writing the story in a book for her. Carroll did not forget a detail, insisted upon the dreamy professor of mathematics writing the story in a book for her. She is accompanied by her only surviving son, Captain Cyril Hargreaves, of the Scots Guards, and sister Miss Rhoda Liddell.

possess a life boat. This, however, is a minor matter in the 11 years of adversity that have dogged the efforts of Rev. James E. Lewis, self-styled Moses of his negro brethren, minister of the Gospel, shipbuilder and persistent promoter.

Lewis is hopeful of buying a 4,000-ton steamer now laid up at Vancouver, B. C., for his steamerless steamship line. He would use this liner as the nucleus of a fleet to carry negroes in America back to Africa.

The terminus of the Church of God line would be Liberia, Afro-American republic on the west coast. On the return trips to America the boats would bring to Los Angeles cargoes of mahogany, lignum vitae, palm oil and other tropical products.

This "back to Africa" movement began its series of adventures 11 years ago. In 1921 the negro pastor finished construction of his grotesque Ark of the Living God, a craft of peculiar contours. Lewis built it on Terminal island tidelands from odd pieces of wood collected during three years of watchfulness.

The craft disdained salt water and refused to budge. In desperation three tugs were used. They finally coaxed it into the sea.

Several sailing dates were announced, but only well-wishers appeared. None materialized. Finally the boat was beached and burned as a public nuisance.

Ensuing years brought to light many other proposed expeditions to Liberia from the fertile brain of Rev. Lewis. They, too, failed. Once, he nearly bought a boat. He obtained an option on the little Mexican steamer, Chiapas, but the deal was never consummated.

His faithful followers have retained faith despite their leader's struggle.

CLARK GABLE'S FATHER

BUCHANAN, N. D. (UP)—William H. Gable, a truck gardener, assumed a new importance in his neighbor's eyes when they learned recently that he was the father of Clark Gable, movie star.

The elder man's career, his friends

After he had lost money in several oil well ventures, he retired and came to North Dakota, in the summer of 1928. He settled near Buchanan, where he raises garden truck.

"I'm off the oil game for good," he told friends when asked if he ever wanted to drill wells again. "It's a dog's life, twelve hours a day or more of hard work."

Since 1920, when Mrs. Gable died, he has been in every state in the Union except Florida, he said.

The senior Gable has a splendid physique, strong as an ox, but quite hard of hearing. He seldom goes to town, but is a great reader.

Friends claimed that the determined mouths of both the father and son give them a decided resemblance.

The elder Gable will talk freely of his son, but prefers not to say anything for publication.

Do you inhale?

"Why bring that up?" —the cigarette trade asks!

FOR years there has been generally a striking avoidance of the word "inhale" in cigarette advertising. Why? Goodness only knows! For everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly! Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

That's why it's all-important to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure that you don't inhale certain impurities.

Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question—for it has solved the problem! It gives you the protection you want...because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

"Fifty million smokers can't be wrong!" So whether you inhale knowingly or unknowingly—safeguard your delicate membranes!
